WHAT A PASTOR SEES AND HEARS

PERSONAL ITEMS OF INTEREST TO MANY DENOMINATIONS.

"If there is one thing in this world that needs plenty of air and light, it is a theological discussion," said a prominent Presbyterian pastor to the writer on after the meeting of the New-York Presbytery. This conservative body had just decided by a vote of twenty-three to twenty-two to discuss with closed doors the one subject which all admit is of the utmost interest to all the Presbyterian churches in the United States. Not only is every member of the fifty-four churches in the Presbytery anxious to know what their pastors and the seminary professors say in regard to the Westminster Confession of Faith, but there are scores of Presbyteries all over the country whose members are waiting to see what action the New-York Presbytery will take on the General Assembly's overture. There seems to be some doubt whether speeches are being prepared which may cause an explosion, or whether the Presbytery intends to send a sealed verdict to the Assembly next spring. The argument advanced for excluding the reporters is a possible fear of misrepresentation, but the General Assembly last spring adopted unanimously a vote of thanks "to The New-York Tribune, 'New-York Mail and Express' and 'New-York Evening Post,' and other papers of this city, for their full and accurate report of our proceedings." (Minutes, Page 139.)

It is a gratifying sign of the times that so many young theological students are learning practical work by helping church and mission pastors while in the eminary. It was a dream of Dr. Hitchcock, of the Union Seminary, to have cadetships founded so that free from the thought of financial aid and in return he assigned to help churches that needed them. sear ely more than the dream was realized, but students have been employed in this way for a number of years. This year, although the seminary has the largest junior class in its history, sixty-six members, with fourteen additions to the other two classes, besides three graduate students, in all eighty-three new men, President Hastings has been obliged to refuse several applicants because they needed financial aid that he could not promise them. The were good men, who would undoubtedly have been a credit to the institution and a great help to many a hard-worked pastor. The total is 169, as against 134 last year. It is safe to say that some students carry into their pastorates more practical knowledge of the same students. pastorates more practical knowledge of what they learn in contact with living men than they do from their study of dead languages; both are necessary; one is essential in this age.

Dr. T. W. Chambers, of the Collegiate Reformed Church in this city, began his ministry in Somerville, K. J., on October 13, 1839, and the Consistery of that church has invited him to preach there to morrow, and to give such reminiscences of his pastorate as he may think proper. "The Observer" says that *The Church of Christ, without regard to denomina-tional name, regards Dr. Chambers with high esteem, both for his learning and his labor."

"One of the most difficult problems in religious work in New-York," said a layman who has given the best part of his life to Sunday-school work, "is to find a minister adapted to mission work who will stay in his field." This remark was elicited by the signation of the Rev. E. E. Rogers, of the Covenant Chapel, connected with the Church of the Covenant. He has done splendld work in the short time that he has been their, but it is not very long since he succeeded Mr. McEweb, who left a chapel to become the pastor of a church. Romeyn Chapel in East Fourteenthist. In the last six years has had three-regular pastors, and a "supply," and the present pastor, the Rev. H. M. Andrews, it is said, is contemplating mission work in India. This is one of Pr. John Hall's chapels, and it receives liberal support from the home church. Mr. Rogers goes to a church in Zanesville, Oblo. Chapel, connected with the Church of the Covenant.

The Rev. W. J. McKittrick, for a number of years the pastor of Hope Chapel, in East Fourth.st. married a member of his present church in Florida, N. Y., last week. The bride is a sister of the Rev. S. S. seward, of the New-Jerusalem Church in this city. While Mr. seward is a leader in the Swedenborgian denomination, ois father and all his relatives were firm Presbyterians; they are related to Secretary Seward.

The one denomination that excels in anniversary occusions for its churches and Sunday schools is the Methodist Episcopal, and this may explain in part the devotion and loyalty of its members. To-morrow the second Street Sunday school will celebrate its sixbeth anniversary with services that last the greater part of the day. During the week there will be revival meetings.

A farewell meeting for missionaries going to India was held in Lenox Hall in Fifth-ave, on Tuesday after-

THE COURTS.

DID HE GET THE LEGACY DUE HIM? Judge Patterson, in Part I of the Supreme Court, reserved his decision yesterday in the case of John E. Sweeny against the executors of the estate of his uncle, Daniel Sweeny, to recover $30,000. Daniel Sweeny was the proprietor of Sweeny's Hotel, and the plaintiff alleges that about a year ago and after his uncle's death he learned for the first time that another uncle, Ephraim, who died in 1846, had made a will in which Daniel, who was made executor, was directed to pay $000 a year for the education and support of the plaintiff until he became of age and then to pay him $1,500. John declares that although he went to school three or four years he was away from home most of the time after 1848 and never received any of the mone. The defondants say that John received all the money to which he was entitled. No receipts were produced in court.

A MINISTER CONFIRMS HIS TESTIMONY. In supplementary proceedings on a judgment for 1891 obtained by E. J. Denning & Co. against Bradhurst Schieffelin, brother of William H. Schieffelin, the wealthy drug manufacturer, in the City Court yesterday, the Rev. Charles McCarthy, who testified as to a real estate transaction at the last hearing, tween the Schleffelins and the spiritualist, Mrs. Williams, and was accused by ex-Judge McKeon, the counsel for the defence, with being untrutful, produced letters from Mrs. Williams to substantiate his statement. Mr. McCarby said that Mrs. Williams's statement that she owned a house in this city was false. The case will go on on October 23.

JUDGMENT AGAINST A DEAD MAN.

The Citizens' Bank of Richmond, Va., secured a dgment by default against Maurice B. Flynn, before Ingraham, in the Supreme Court, yesterday for $2,001 71. Before Flynn's death he was inter ested in building a cable road in Richmond, and drew a note for the amount named, which was not paid up at the time of his death. When the case was called Judge Ingraham remarked that Maurice B. Flynn was dead, but he granted the judgment nevertheless.

PURSUING A BIGAMIST FROM AUSTRALIA. Chicago, Oct. 11 .- A good-looking young woman from Australia arrived in Chicago last night in pursuit of a married man who had wedded her under presence that he was single. His meeting with Miss Hackett, a short but ardent courtship, marriage, a week's honeymoon, then a sudden business call to Sydney, preceded by the drummer borrowing 8750 from his new father-in-law, tell the Australian end of the story. Mailhouse was next heard of in San Francisco in a letter telling Miss Hackett to expect him by the next steamer. She did not wait, but took the first vessel for the United States, investigating en route his record, of which she had somehow got an lukling. Mailhouse was at home with his first wife last night when arrested. He had no notice of what was coming until confronted at Police Headquarters by the woman be supposed to be at the Antipodes.

The foreign exchange market for tomorrow's mail was not active, but the rates were well sustained at quotations for business as follows: Bankers' bills at $4 82 7.8 and $4 86 7.8 for long and short sterling respectively: French francs at 5.21 1.4
and 5.18 3.4; reichmarks at 94 3.8 and 95 1.8,
and guilders at 40 1.16 and 40 5.16.

In London British consols closed easier at 97 1.16
for money and 97 5-16 for account. The Bank of England gained 100,000 pounds bullion on balance. For money in the open market no rates were quoted, so it may be assumed that they either were unchanged or easier. Bar silver was steady at 42 3.4d, per ounce. American railways, while firm, were responsive to the home markets,
and 40 closed at about a parity of New-York's 11 o clock quotations, if anything, a little higher.
At Paris French 3 per cents declined to 87.27 1.2, and sight exchange on London was weak at 25.25 francs for sterling.
